

2011 RMHA 25th
Anniversary
International Horse Show

President's Corner
September, 2011

The 2011 Rocky Mountain International Championship Horse Show has just concluded. Before the dust really settles it is important for all to know that plans are underway to make the 2012 Show an even greater success.

I believe that most spectators and exhibitors had a good time seeing beautiful Rockies compete and by taking the opportunity to catch up with old friends. Likewise, in the course of any event spread over 5 days, there are things that can be improved.

We have established a group for post-analysis of the show and in an effort for thoroughness, we invite your comments via email to the RMHA office at admin@rmhorse.com. The designated members of this group have been keeping notes on their own, but the observations of exhibitors, spectators, judges and the Rocky volunteer members who did so much of this work on site and in preparation for the Show are welcome and should maximize our chances to make a good event better.

Kari Williams, our 2011 IS show manager, has agreed to meet with this group to lend her professional insight into our evaluation. I heard nothing but compliments about Kari and her staff during the show and welcome her expertise in helping us improve.

Never forget that we are a volunteer organization. The success or failure of our efforts ultimately depends on someone not unlike yourself who is willing to give the time and effort to make a difference for the RMHA. Consider joining the ranks of the volunteer worker members of the Rocky Mountain Horse Association. Hands on participation might sometimes be limited by geography, but thoughtful consideration of what we do and how we do it and how it reflects on the future of our horse can come from anywhere. Be involved and encourage your riding buddies to do the same.
