The class will be judged on a combination of gait and riding attire, which will be bibs and boots.

Youth Best in Blue Grand Championship (#89)-Entrants must have received one blue ribbon in any under saddle class (excluding #500) during the 2018 Rocky Mountain International Grand Championship Show to qualify. The class will be judged on a combination of gait and rider equitation / turnout. The winner will exemplify the best qualities of a Rocky Mountain horse, the rider's horsemanship skills, and exemplary turn out.

Youth 12-17 Classes 57, 60, & 62 - To promote safety in the classes, if 12 or more riders are entered in any of these classes they will be split into two heats with the top 10 riders returning for the final placings in the class. The class will be split by riders ages, with 12-15 year olds in the first heat and 16-17 year olds in the second heat. The top five riders from each heat will return for the final class placings. If there are five or less riders in either heat, those riders will automatically move forward to the final class with the remaining number of riders needed to make a total of 10 being kept from the other heat. The top 10 riders will then compete to determine final placings for the class.
